An aerial photograph showing a coastal or wetland area. The terrain is a mix of light brown/tan and dark green patches, possibly representing different vegetation or water levels. A black rectangular label with the text 'SS22-29' is positioned in the lower right corner, with a thin vertical line extending downwards from its bottom center.

SS22-29

The image shows three rolls of fabric stacked vertically. The top roll is a deep red color, the middle roll is a forest green, and the bottom roll is a dusty blue. All three fabrics have a consistent, fine ribbed texture. Each roll is partially unspooled, showing the texture more clearly. Labels with leader lines point to each roll.

SS22-36

The image displays three rolls of wallpaper with different floral and leaf patterns. The top roll features a green and white design. The middle roll has a red, orange, and cream pattern. The bottom roll shows a blue and white design. A fourth, larger image on the right shows a detailed view of a white and brown floral pattern.
